Meet Fran Bethea

Fran and Kovic

I am currently teaching Beginner Novice and serving on the Board as the Communications Director. I am also a member of the German Shepherd Dog Club of Greater Washington, DC., where I hold the position of V. President and produce their club newsletter. My other responsibility is to my two dogs. Chula, a 7-year-old German Shepherd Dog, and Jagger, a 2-year-old Standard Poodle. Chula is trialing in scent work. Jagger is in training for obedience.

As with everyone involved with dogs and training, my interest also started when I was young. I was enamored with the German Shepherd Dog. It wasn't until my teenage years when one came into my life. I trained him from what I learned from books from the library and my imagination. I did not come from a legacy of trainers or the dog world of sports and most certainly had no idea what I was missing.

All my previous dogs were of mixed lineage and given to me or found as strays. During that time, I also worked with rescues. Some of the dogs I fostered and found homes for, others were foster fails. It wasn't until 2013 when I bought my first German Shepherd Dog; the very first dog I ever paid for. He was flown in—all the way from Georgia, mind you. I still chuckle about me thinking flying a dog in from Georgia was a big deal. Especially after I found out where some people got their dogs flown in from! With this dog I was introduced to the world of dog sports and jumped two feet in.

Finding A Place at Oriole

As soon as I moved to this area, I applied to join Oriole. I immediately got involved with the club as much as I could by volunteering for everything that interested me. The training club experience was fascinating and oh so exciting. I started with all of the AKC Family dog titles; a very good place to start if you're green to the dog sports world. I finally became a training member in 2018.

I wanted to give back and I also wanted to be a contributing member. My request to shadow an instructor for a session was obliged and I become a Basic instructor in 2022. There are all kinds of people who come to basic; the first time dog owners, the folks with a new dog and those who just want to develop a relationship and bond with their dog. I absolutely enjoy helping people with the beginning of their obedience journey because I certainly enjoyed mine. It is heartwarming to see my students improve from that first class and to see some go on to the upper levels.

Along the way, I've met so many supportive and encouraging people at the club. The vibe here really helps you grow and pushes you to keep leveling up your training. For me, it's been a total eye-opener. I truly look up to and appreciate all the instructors I've worked with. They've taught me so much about patience, dedication, and sticking with it. I also learned how to push through frustration—though to be honest, I'm still working on that one! Everyone has been so supportive, celebrating my wins and backing me up in everything I do. Seriously, every single person I've met here has impacted me for the better.

Jagger and Chula

Strengthening ODTC's Voice

Back in 2024, I stepped into the role of Communications Director. Now in my second year, I'm still figuring things out as I go, but my main focus is keeping ODTC's image positive and strong. Ultimately, everything I do is about backing the club's true purpose: "to promote the utility of dogs as well behaved and reliable companions through training." To make that happen, I'm working with others on sorting out our marketing plans and developing a consistent look and feel to the community in and outside the dog sports world. This means managing how we show up to the public, handling media relations, and keeping everyone in the loop through our newsletter, internal messaging, social media, and website. Community outreach is another big piece of the job. Our very first project, the ODTC Pet Food Drive, was a huge success, and I'm confident we'll do even better with this year's drive starting October 1st. The possibilities are enormous and I find the responsibility as Communications Director quite enjoyable so far.

Before Dogs, There Were Fish—Lots of Fish!

From all the years I've spent in the dog world, which isn't much compared to some, you would never know that in the late 1900's I was totally immersed in the tropical fish hobby. I maintained a fish room with up to 33 tanks. I imported fish directly from South America and bred fish for pleasure, sale or trade. I bred fish that some could not, which led me to being hosted to speak to fish clubs nationally and once abroad. Annually, I attended conventions that brought in fellow hobbyists from the UK and other nations to compete in showing fish, fish photography and aquascaping. I also co-founded two clubs in the area that are still running today. There's so much more I could say about that part of my life, but I'm a dog training and competition fanatic now.

News & Special Recognition

Introducing Dogs to CAT (Sports)

By: Meredith Neubauer

Ever heard someone talk about how fast their dog is at Fast CAT and wonder why someone would be talking about dogs chasing cats? You're not alone in the confusion, but Fast CAT is actually one of the newest, most popular sports to be held in the US – and it doesn't have anything to do with our feline friends.

The Coursing Ability Test (CAT) is one of the many forms of lure coursing you can do with your dog. Fast CAT measures how quickly your dog can run the 100-yard dash. For context, the fastest runner in the world is Usain Bolt, who peaked at 27.5 mph (9.5 seconds). Some dogs can reach speeds upward of 35mph (think sighthound).

Fast CAT utilizes a combination of your dog's prey drive, physical strength, and mental concentration. Can they catch the bunny before crossing the finish line? Only time (and your dog) will tell!

To participate in one of the many local events, your dog: Must be 12 months or older and be registered with the AKC (AKC registration, canine partners, purebred alternative listing program, or foundation stock service). It is also recommended your dog be in physical condition able to sprint for short distances.

Fast CAT is a great way to break into the world of dog sports and meet other dog-centered people! There is no training needed to participate in Fast CAT, but you may find yourself wanting to improve your dog's physical fitness as a result of the competition. You can find upcoming events on the AKC search page, but also plan to attend Oriole Dog's Fast CAT competition, held semi-annually, in the Spring and Fall.

While any sport is about having fun with your dog (and yes, that is the most important rule), Fast CAT entices competitive humans as well. In Fast CAT, the AKC tabulates your dog's three fastest run times over the course of a calendar year to provide you with the dog's MPH. Every year and throughout the year, the AKC publishes "Fast CAT Top 20 Fastest Dogs by Breeds." and it is a rush to see your dog on that list! In fact, if your dog lands within the Top 5 (sometimes Top 10) of the breed, the AKC will invite them (and you) to their Annual Fast CAT Invitational, where the top of each breed battles it out in a head-to-head competition on the same track.

After you've been bitten by the Fast CAT bug, you may want to try CAT on for size! CAT is similar to Fast CAT in that your dog chases a lure, but unlike Fast CAT, your dog is not competing against others in the breed. Instead, your dog must chase the lure on either a 300- or 600 – yard long course (dependent on your dog's size and age). Your dog must finish the course in either 1:30 minutes or 2 minutes, respectively. While many judges on the course will provide participants with the time, the course is only graded on a pass/fail basis. Eligibility to participate in CAT is the same as Fast CAT, and again, it is recommended your dog be in strong physical condition to run that length of time. Once your dog has successfully completed the course three times, your dog earns a title from the AKC.

There is a multitude of other lure coursing opportunities, some designed strictly for sighthounds, like lure coursing from the AKC or the American Sighthound Field Association. The United Kennel Club \(UKC\) also hosts lure coursing events. Canine Performance Events \(CPE\) also has their own version of coursing, called Speedway. No matter the dog, there's guaranteed to be a lure coursing event near you!

The AKC Fast CAT Invitational

By: Meredith Neubauer

The American Kennel Club kicked off its 7th Annual Fast Coursing Ability Trial (Fast CAT) Invitational in Branson, Missouri on Friday, September 18, 2026. The ten fastest dogs from each breed (including All American) were invited to go head-to-head on the course at its national gathering. This was the first year the AKC invited the Top 10 competitors, and the “rookies” were thrilled!

People drove from 48 states and Canada to compete. It was a weekend filled with trading cards, custom t-shirts, custom collars and leashes, even friendship bracelets.

The Schnauzer Boys (aka Onaga & Havik) also arrived on the scene. Due to unseasonably HOT temperatures (heat index at 105°), they did not participate in the pre-Invitational activities like the Fit Dog Walk, CABT, or the non-Invitational runs. Instead, they took over Fantastic Caverns in Springfield, where they were treated like royalty (that they think they are). A Bloodhound named Juno discovered the Fantastic Caverns in 1862. To this day, the company treats the canines as the VIPs they were meant to be – and the Schnauzer Boys loved every minute of the attention.

As if that wasn't enough fun, they just had to meet their competitor, Jhett, at Buster's Old Time Photos, where the dogs realized they were the best treated canines of the Victorian Era. Not a bad way to meet your competition for the first time, right?

Due to Onaga being injured and having to withdraw from the competition, both Havik and Jhett automatically advanced to the finals. On Monday, September 21, the two Standard Schnauzers showed off who could power their legs the fastest. Ultimately, Jhett, beat Havik by 3/10th of a second to capture the title of “Best of Breed.”

Many friends and natives to the Mid-Atlantic area also won Best of Breed, including Vasha the Samoyed, Sylphiette the Yakutian Laika, Edli the Icelandic Sheepdog, Udo the Doberman Pinscher, Roux the Eurasier, and Harley the Great Dane.

The Schnauzer Boys may not have taken home the win this year, but they certainly let the world know they were here to play and stay. Missouri will never be the same!

The almost "All Schnauzers" photo from the Invitational - the Giants bailed on us!

Community Outreach

Oriole Pet Food Drive 2026

October 1 thru November 1

We will be assisting families that may be struggling to feed their pets during these uncertain times. We will choose an organization that receives no operational funding from any government or national humane society. Our goal is to choose a non - profit that relies on donations from the community. We hope that by helping families through these difficult situations, their pets are able to stay in their home, and we can prevent abandonment or the heartbreaking choice of surrendering them to a shelter. More information will be provided soon.

If you have a local shelter or Pet Food Bank in mind that does not receive any government subsidies, feel free to contact me at fbethea@gmail.com

Training Tip

Reward the Check-In

On your next walk, pay attention to the moments when your dog chooses to look at you without being asked.

The instant your dog checks in, say "Yes!" or use your usual marker word, then reward with a treat, praise, or permission to keep exploring.

Why it works: You're teaching your dog that paying attention to you is rewarding—even when you haven't asked for it.

Try it for just 60 seconds during each walk. Over time, those voluntary check-ins can lead to better focus, easier leash walking, and a dog who is more connected to you when distractions appear.

Remember: Don't always ask for attention—reward it when your dog offers it!
